KMA event celebrates student art focused on mental health

THRIVE Bedford Lewisboro Pound Ridge, in conjunction with the Katonah Museum of Art, will host a reception on Friday, April 17, from 6 to 7:30 p.m., to celebrate artwork created by local high school students that addresses themes of mental health and substance use prevention.

The Thrive-KMA collaboration invited students from the Bedford, Lewisboro, and Pound Ridge communities to an interactive painting workshop to create art that reflects on the value of community in promoting mental health and substance use prevention.

The workshop was led by KMA Artists' Association artist, Allyson Montana, who guided participants in developing personal artistic responses to mental health awareness through painting and visual storytelling.

Community members, families, educators, and supporters are invited to attend the reception.

The Katonah Museum of Art is located 134 Jay St., Katonah. Register by April 6 at bit.ly/4c13HiO or email thrivealliance.coordinator@gmail.com.
